Out With the Old . . .

This year's school board spent many long hours discussing plans to bring a merger proposal with North Fayette County Community School to a vote. The proposal was presented after a similar vote with West Central Community School was defeated in November 1982.

When the vote was held September 13, 1983, the proposal passed overwhelmingly in favor of the merger with North.

After the vote, the board's business was primarily centered around the termination and closing of Fayette Community School.

Right: Joyce Smith resigned her duties after serving as secretary of the Fayette Community School District for 25 years. She also served as the school board's secretary and treasurer for the last six years. Below: Seated clockwise around the table discussing final plans for closing the school are: Robert Lamphier, Dennis Dumermuth, Supt. Richard Glidden, Margaret Wulfekuhle, and Board President Braulic Caballero. Board member Don Sieck was not present for photo.

... In With the New

To deal with the new issues and problems that arose as a result of the merger, a new board was elected with members from each district. The North Fayette Board members pictured above are: (seated) President Frank Reyner, Robert Miller, and William Prochaska; (standing) Robert Lamphier, John Falb, Gene Nuss, and Iris Woodard.

This board voted to name the new district North Fayette Community School with the mascot being a Hawk. After much discussion and debate, it was decided that the school colors for the new district would be blue, red, and gold with blue being dominate.

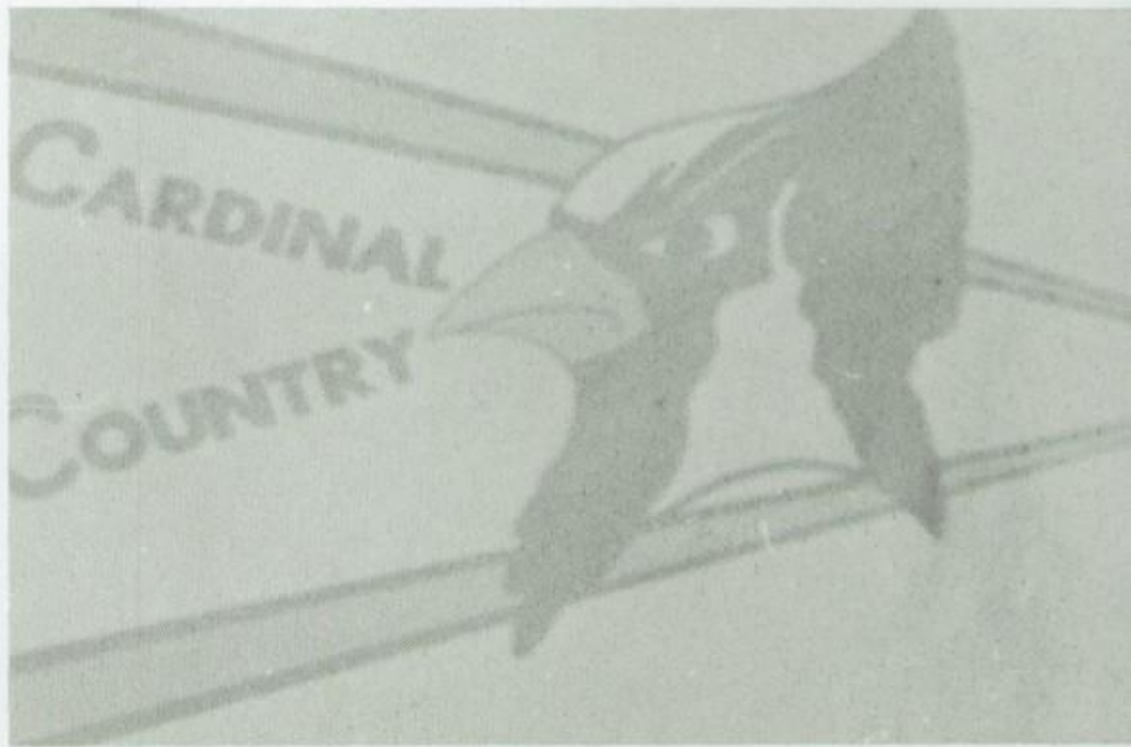

Left: As President of the Fayette School Board, Braulic Caballero presented a plaque of appreciation to both Bernard Pattison and Dennis Dumermuth for the years they served on the board.

Ending It All

Beginning in the fall of 1984, all junior high and high school students from Fayette will attend school in West Union. Tentative plans made by the North Fayette School Board include razing the high school building (pictured on page one), but retaining the gym building (bottom photo) for office space and use by the public.

The Fayette Elementary building (at right) will be kept by the newly formed district and will continue to be used for Fayette students in grades 1-6.

The top photo shows a painting which hung on the east wall of the gym for many years. After July 1, 1984, the official closing day of Fayette Community School, Fayette can no longer be called "Cardinal Country."

Can't Win 'em All

The summer and fall softball seasons were each disappointing as they ended in records of 6-14 and 0-9, respectively.

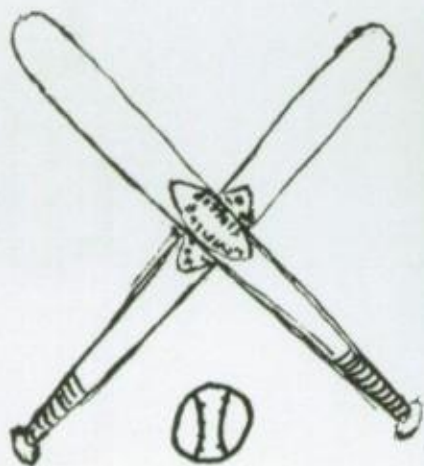

Joyce Adams was named first-team designated hitter; and Ann Glidden, second-team outfield in the Upper Iowa Conference for the summer season.

For their efforts in the fall the following girls were named All-Conference selections: Karrie Weyant: first-team designated hitter, Ann Glidden: first-team outfielder, Kelly Bentley: second-team first baseman, and Lori Green and Diana Dumermuth: honorable mention.

Against All Odds

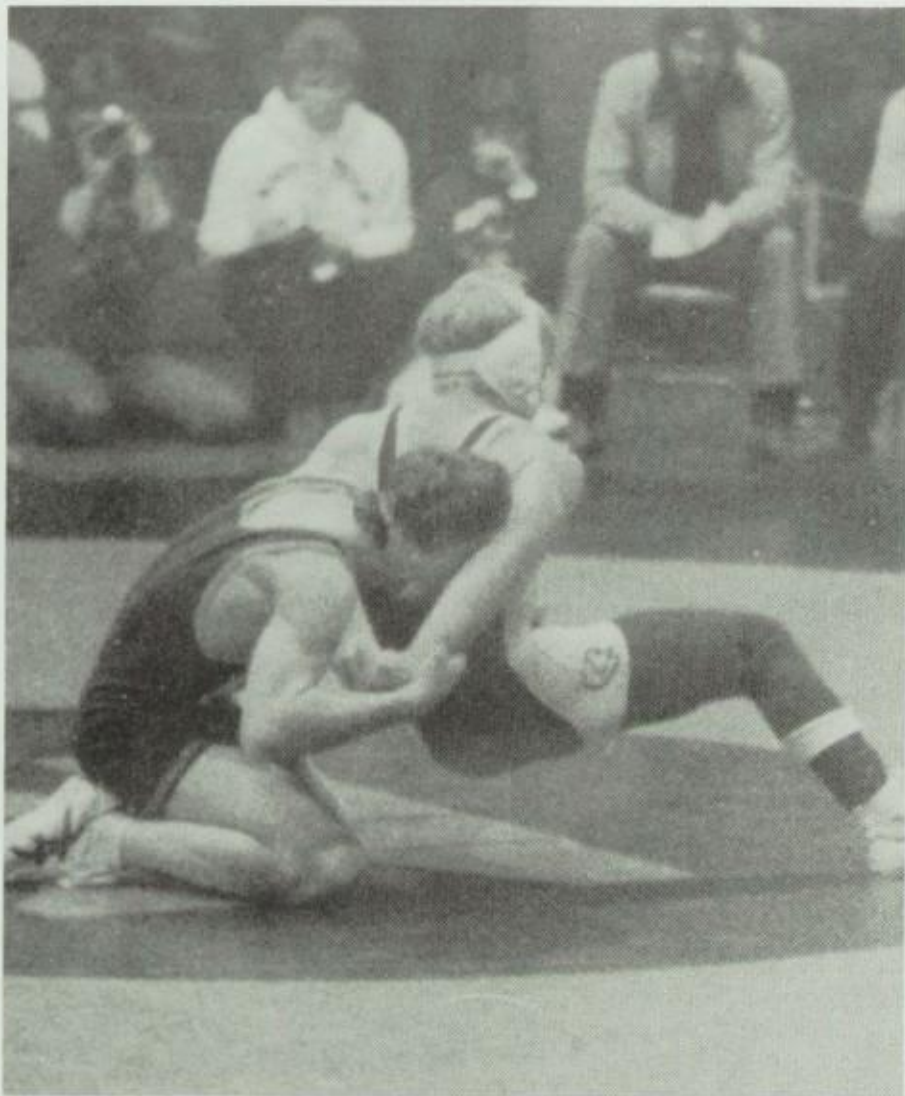

Under the direction of first-year coach, Marty McKowen, the Cardinals looked strong in their first few outings. However, they were unable to come up with a winning record as they finished out the year at 5-13.

Season highlights included two victories over West Central, a grand slam home run against Sumner by freshman Jeff Kaune, and a 19-18 win over Elkader after being down 12-18 in the bottom of the seventh inning.

Six Cardinals were awarded All-Conference honors for their skillful efforts. Randy Garr - outfielder, Mike Prochaska - second baseman, and Shawn Griffin - designated hitter were all chosen for second team in the Upper Iowa Conference. Pat Murphy, Doug Steinbronn, and Jim Petsche were each given Honorable Mention.

Cards Go North

Fayette High and North High took advantage of the newly developed cooperative program which allows two schools to share athletic programs if they have previously shared classes. Wrestling and cross-country were just two of the shared programs which Fayette students participated in at North.

Sophomore Ray Iliff became Fayette's first wrestler as he joined the North squad. Though his victories were few, the season helped him gain valuable experience for his upcoming Varsity years.

Lisa Kime was Fayette's cross-country pioneer as she was one of just eight girls to go out for the sport. Although small in number, the Hawkettes accomplished big things as they won seven of twelve meets and placed second in three others. After placing a disappointing fourth at Districts, the North runners came back strong to place third at the state meet in Ames.

Left: Ray Iliff (kneeling) wrestles his opponent to the mat in a North High Meet. Shown below are the Varsity harriers who accumulated eight trophies during the season.

They are: Kristin Boeke, Lisa Kime, Shelly Wurzer, Coach Scott, Mary Marshall, Michelle VanSickle, and Paula Wilbur.

Since the state ruled that schools already sharing academic programs could share extra-curricular activities, eight Fayette High School fellows took advantage of the opportunity. Three students played on the varsity team and five on the junior varsity.

The varsity football team unfortunately experienced a number of defeats during the season. The final record was 3 wins and 6 losses, but all things considered, the season was a plus. Keith Hennig felt there were several games he'd like to replay, but he feels the '84-'85 season looks a lot better.

Matt Samek and Keith each started several games and each played several positions. Matt played tight-end on the varsity offense team and also played on several speciality teams. Remembering that the fellows hadn't been involved as football players for two years because Fayette dropped the sport, the experience was worthwhile and exciting.

Keith started out at the defensive half-back position and ended the season as an offensive full-back with experience at an assortment of other spots in between. Keith and Matt each lettered in football.

Because Karl Kraus was involved in the National Guard during the summer, he was unable to start practicing and playing with the football team for a few weeks. However, his former experience and abilities were a good addition for the varsity team.

The Fayette five junior varsity players were all learning and practicing basics of football. They all were involved in varying amounts during the season in the games and will surely exhibit their experience in the coming years. The team's record was a commendable 5 - 0 - 1.

Tracey Anderson was a tackle on both the offensive and defensive teams and started all the games. This was his second year as a football player.

Jon Merritt, Joe White and James Beeh each played as an end on the team. Jon was on both the offense and defense teams. Chad Ingels played the quarterback spot some of the season plus experiencing other positions as well.

Cheering on the Blue and Gold

Kathy Vandersee and Aimee Dahlquist had the privilege of cheering with four other girls to represent the Freshman Cheerleading Squad.

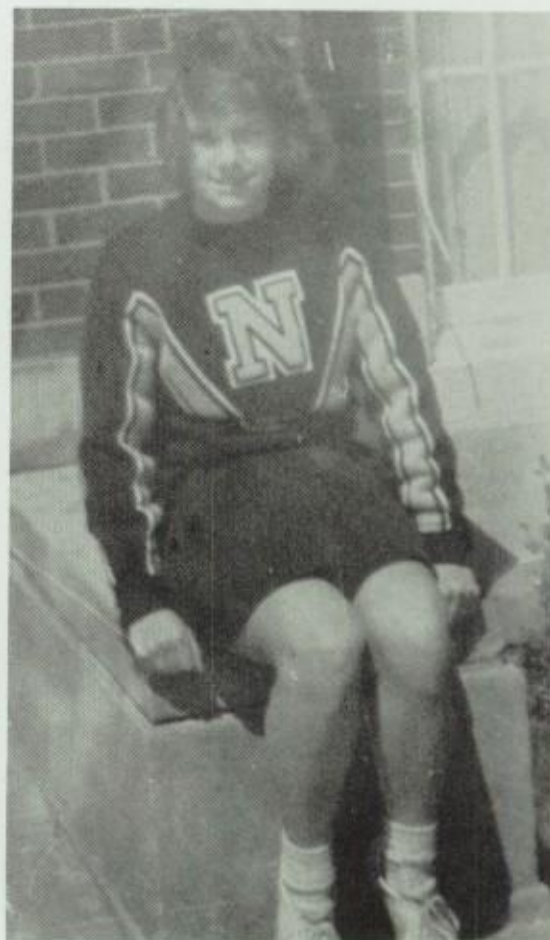

Between cheerleading and softball practices, the girls were extremely busy. They participated in four pep rallies during the season.

An embarrassing moment for Kathy and Aimee was when they fell from a mount in the middle of a pep rally.

The season turned out to be memorable and fun for the girls.

Top: Kathy Vandersee Bottom: Aimee Dahlquist

Ann Glidden and Jane Dohrmann nervously awaited the day in May '83 when they would compete with 37 other girls for eight positions to compose the North High Varsity Football cheerleaders. The day finally came when they performed the required routines before several new faces. After that endless hour, the final results were posted. The girls were to represent North High in the fall!

August came and practices began. The girls patiently learned a variety of new and vivacious cheers. Carpools became routine as Ann and Jane participated in the weekly pep rallies. On one game day, the entire football team and squad ventured to Fayette for a special pep rally. The Fayette students also received a taste of the football season by participating in the various dress-up days during Homecoming and going to the dance on Friday night.

The UNI-Dome aroused enough interest to have a pep bus with Fayette students. Ann and Jane provided treats for the riders.

Karl Kraus, Matt Samek, and Keith Hennig were dumbfounded when on a Thursday morning they found Ann and Jane in their bedrooms at 5:30 A.M. as the cheerleaders held a kidnap breakfast for the varsity team.

The season was very time consuming and lots of hard work. However, it was very enjoyable and unforgettable for the girls.

The Varsity Cheerleaders were: front row - Ann Glidden and Captain Marcy Gage. Row two - Becky Havener and Marcia Nydegger. Row three - Betsy Knutson and Laurie Bostrom. Back row - Captain Jane Dohrmann and Libby Bennet.

Diana Dumermuth was chosen as one of the six sophomore cheerleaders to represent the North High Hawks for the fall football season. They cheered their team on to a successful 8-0 season.

The squad kept busy by making signs and by participating at the pep rallies. They also gave a super surprise dinner in honor of the Varsity Cheerleaders.

The season turned out to be spunky and spirited. Diana made many new friends and created an interest in rousing school spirit.

The sophomore squad consisted of Traci Cooley, Keron Dyer, Vicki Baderschneider, Cheri Boelman, Lynn Ney, and Diana Dumermuth.

Hard Work Pays Off

The boys' 1983-84 basketball season started out with a lot of hard work and high expectations, but ended in disappointment when the team finished with a 4-19 record overall. The boys' played most teams tough but usually ended up on the short end when the final buzzer went off. One of the highlights of the year was beating conference rival MFL twice during the season. A few of the other highlights were - beating Plainfield in the very last home game ever at Fayette High, trouncing non-conference foe North Winn by twenty-one points. One of the more interesting things to happen during the season was when Mike Prochaska decided to be a slam dunk star by running up and jumping off of Keith Hennig's back and dunk the ball. It ended up with Mike breaking both of his arms and being sidelined for the rest of the season. Jim Petsche, Doug Steinbronn, Pat Murphy, and Randy Garr received Honorable Mention honors in the conference. All in all the season was a very memorable one which the team enjoyed despite the lack of victories.

Lady Cards stand proud

This year's Girls' Basketball team had a disappointing season with a record of 4-14.

Even with this record the girls enjoyed playing the final year of basketball at FHS under Head Coach Hugh DeBerg and Assistant Coach Cheryl Gade.

The main highlight of the season was the final game played at home against Plainfield. Fayette won the exciting and memorable game by a score of 55 to 48.

Other games that stood out during the year were the two close victories over Valley and coming from behind to beat Fredericksburg.

To conclude this special year four girls were chosen for All-Conference teams. Ann Glidden was placed highest, as she was picked for first team. Denise Lamphier, Missy Tangen, and Lisa Kime were each chosen for Honorable Mention.

All the girls that participated in this year's basketball should all be honored for the fine way they held up Fayette's pride and honor. We hope that this tradition will be carried out in the ensuing years at the new schools.

Cheerleaders in Action

Varsity Cheerleaders: Diana Dumermuth, Meg Glidden, Kelly Bentley, Jane Dohrmann, Yvette Waterman, and Lori Lau

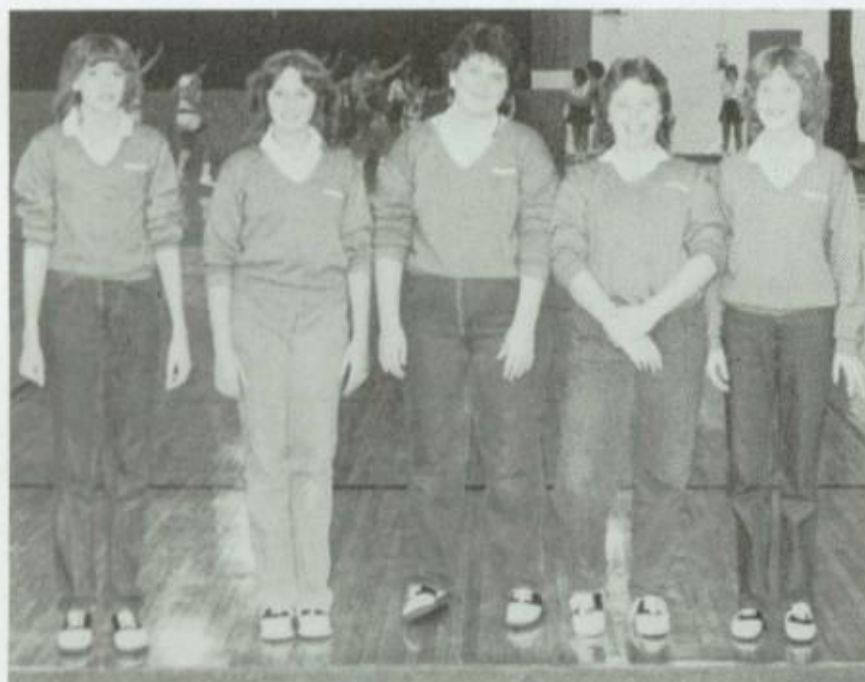

Although this was our last year, the pride for our school was stronger than ever! The cheerleaders illustrated this by showing more enthusiasm and emotions than was thought possible. They brought the crowds to their feet in cheers that filled the gym with pride that could be heard for miles around.

There was never a dull moment as the cheerleaders thought of new and innovative ideas to bring the enthusiasm of the players, coaches, managers, and fans to an all-time high! "There's only one FHS" buttons were sold. The gym was plastered with signs to show the support of our Cardinals. The cheerleaders also hosted spirit, homecoming, and a wakeup breakfast.

The lockerrooms and lockers were decorated to pep the teams up. On several occasions the players were given things to show the cheerleaders support; this included balloons, M&Ms, or "pep pills", popcorn and fudge.

The cheerleaders work was never done as they sold flowers and balloons for Valentine's Day, led a cheerleading workshop to arouse the younger children's enthusiasm, had many spirit raising pep meetings with several skits, and hosted a Banana Split party.

The season was filled with many great times, and the gym will be filled with the roar of our school's pride forever!

The J.V. Girls' team played too many close games this season. Some were won and some were lost.

There weren't many girls participating, but the team of 11 played every game hard.

The final season held many heartbreaks of losing games, but it also gave a couple of wins that were celebrated and cherished.

The girls attempted and made their goal of: Throwing Ms. Gade in the shower with her clothes on.

The team ended their final season at Fayette with a record of 2 wins and 11 losses.

A Season of Trends

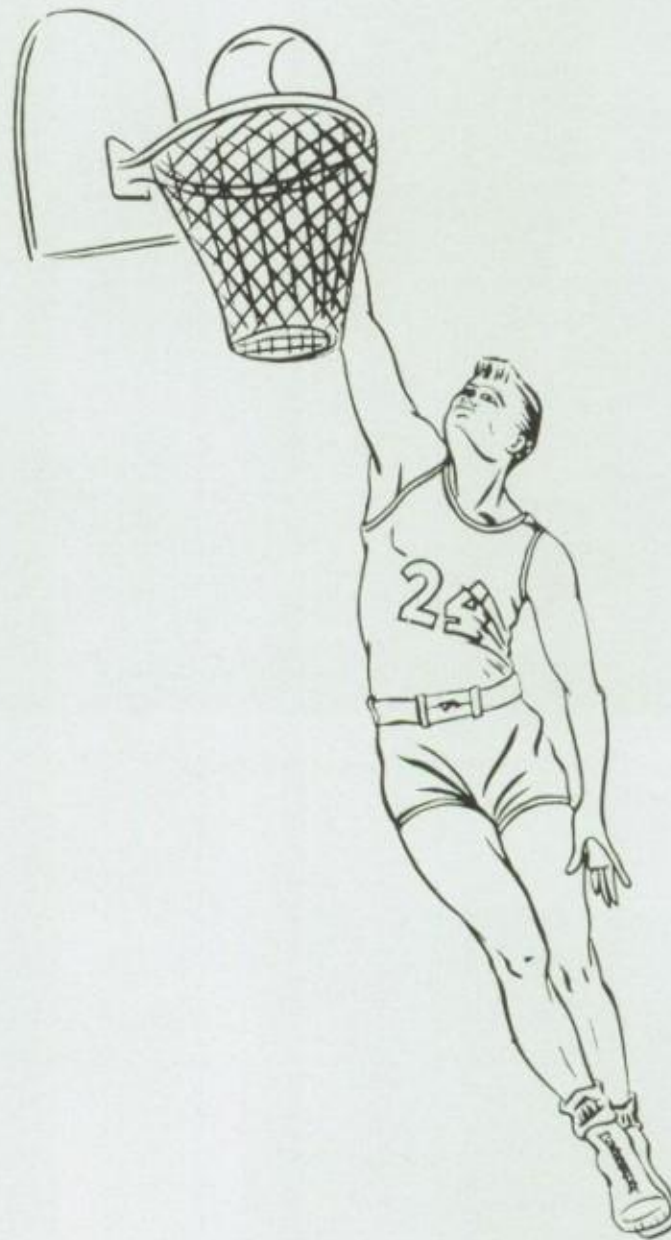

at FHS

This season was a season of trends for our boys' JV basketball team. As the season opened under the direction of Coach Pat Bollman, everyone worked hard in preparation for the first game. The beginning of the season was a trend of losses, but that wasn't the main concern. At first, we only wanted to play a good game. The losing didn't matter as long as we had played well. Later, after our first taste of victory, we not only wanted to play well, but also win.

Shawn Griffin led us in scoring and Jeff Kaune led us in rebounding throughout the season. Even so, everyone, at one time or another, contributed to the season. We played well as a team and played some very close ball games.

Our highlight of the season must be pointed out as a victory over North in double overtime on our home court. This gave the team's pride a big boost. Our final record was 5-8. All in all it was a season of trends.

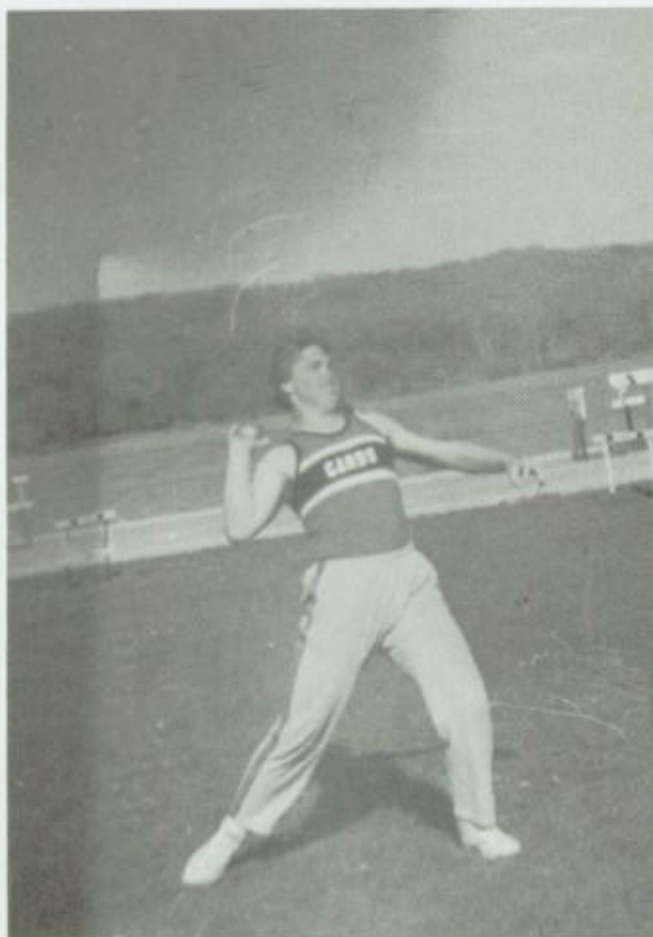

There were no game shots or team pictures available to be used on this page. Team members included: Tracey Anderson, Mark Duff, Shawn Griffin, Chad Ingels, Jeff Kaune, Jon Merritt, Bobby Schultz, Robbie Sieck, and Joe White.

Thinclads In Motion

Boys' track team: Keith Hennig, Tracey Anderson, Coach Kjergaard, and Karl Kraus.

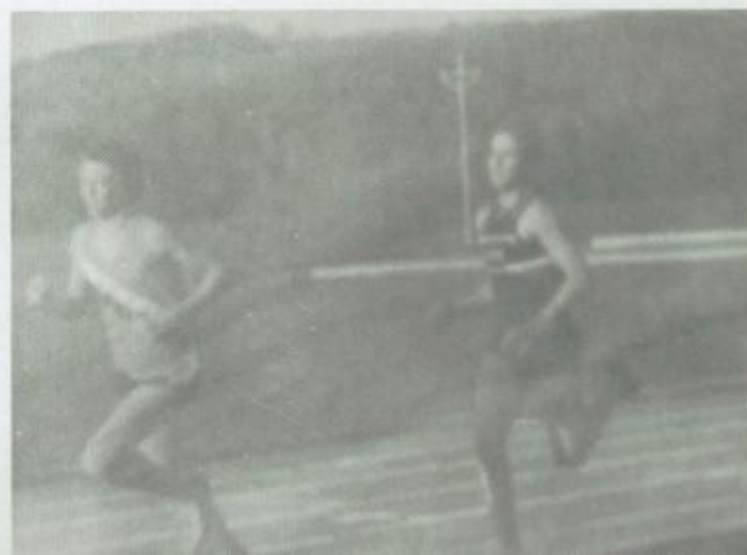

Tracey heaving the shotput.

Karl reaching the finish of the 400-meter run.

Keith sprinting to a victory in the 100-meter run.

The boys' track team had a very productive year, even though there were only three boys out. The fieriest competitors for track were Karl Kraus, Keith Hennig, and Tracey Anderson. The season started off in Fredericksburg with their placing in four events. Karl placed twice, second in the mile and third in the 880 run. Keith was fifth in the shotput while Tracey placed fourth in the same event. At the Warrior Relays and at districts in Anamosa, Karl placed third in the mile run. They did great at the quadrangular meet at North High placing in nine events. Karl placed first in the mile and fourth in the 400-meter run. Keith placed third in the 100-meter run, fourth in the 200-meter run, third in the long jump, and fifth in the shotput. Tracey placed in three events, sixth in both the discus and shotput and fourth in the 2-mile run.

Running for Glory

Despite injury among the few girls who went out, the female thinclads of FHS did well scoring points and bringing home ribbons. The eleven members who represented Fayette throughout the season were Kitty Killoran, Lisa Kime, Tina Hildebrand, Donna Schultz, Lisa Bergholt, Diana Dumermuth, Terri Mouw, Aimee Dahlquist, Amy Laymon, Melissa Prochaska, and Kelly Weyant. Tina, Terri, Aimee, and Melissa each had a shortened season due to injury.

Although their dreams for the distance medley didn't come true, the Lady Cards fared well at most of their meets. Lisa Kime was only .3 seconds away from going to State as she placed second at Districts setting a new school record at 12:17.1 in the 3000-meter run.

Other highlights included the distance medley placing second at the county meet, going through "the stages" during our trips in the van, and being treated to pizza by Coach DeBerg at the end of the season.

Bottom: Racing for a finish in the 800-meter run, Donna strives to beat her Central opponent.

Miss It by Three

Fayette's golf team missed advancing to districts by just three strokes this year. They had tied with Clarksville after 18 holes at the sectional meet but were unable to beat them in a three-hole playoff.

Despite this disappointment, the Cards golfed well throughout the season on winning three of seven meets. They took second in three others including the tough Upper Iowa Conference meet.

Veteran golfer Jeff Olson led the team as he was medalist several times. Robbie Sieck also had the distinction of being medalist.

Below: Those who participated in golf were: Robbie Sieck, Jeff Kaune, Joe White, Shawn Griffin, Mike Prochaska, Pat Murphy, Jeff Olson, and Joe Tory.

Right: Robbie Sieck and Jeff Olson were each medalist throughout the season by scoring the lowest number of strokes at any particular meet.

... Making It Happen

Farewell Breakfast

This year's student council was very active. They did their best to make student life pleasant at Fayette High. Sock hops were held in between the large dances such as Homecoming, Valentine's Day Dance, the Spring Fling, and the End-of-the-year/Charity Dance.

The members were always raising money for some special activity they would sponsor. They held a slave auction and ring toss at Watermelon Days, a paperdrive, a garage and bake sale in the summer, and sold #1 hands, bumper stickers, and seat cushions.

A volleyball tournament before Christmas was set up by members.

A special thanks to their advisors, Mrs. Brauhn, and Mr. Schmalle. Also to all of the parents of the members that chaperoned all of the dances.

Marching Band Shows Progress

Marching Band performing in the Watermelon Days parade.

The marching band had a very busy and productive year. Practices began in August usually in the early morning hours. They performed at North High football games, and for Homecoming they combined forces with the North High marching band. The most memorable thing about marching at North was getting mud-covered during Homecoming and Mr. Utterback backing over a curb and almost colliding with a parked bus. The next few weeks brought even more early morning practices to get ready for marching band contests. Fayette was the first band to perform. Many band members complained of the cold and that they couldn't even play their horns because their fingers were frozen. The rating was a disappointing III, which didn't reflect the hard work which they put in it. They journeyed home quickly so they could perform for the halftime show of the Upper Iowa Homecoming game. They worked very hard throughout the year and had fundraisers. Their hard work eventually paid off for they were able to go to the "Windy City" of Chicago and spend a few days there. They played at Marriott's Great America and did some sightseeing.

This year's Marching Band Colorguard was made up of nine girls. Missy Richards, Yvette Waterman, Kelly Bentley, Karen Pattison, Kim Vandersee, Kathy Vandersee, Aimee Dahlquist and Co-Captains Denise Lamphier and Missy Tangen.

The colorguard performed with the Fayette band at North High Football games. They also did a routine with the North band and colorguard at the Homecoming game.

They also performed at Watermelon Days, Band Contest at Charles City and at Upper Iowa's Homecoming where they received a standing ovation for their performance.

The girls' numerous morning and band time practices to get ready for these performances. The girls' hard work and dedication was shown when they displayed their talents.

The members of the Spanish Club had a very fun-filled and productive year. Many of them attended the Christmas party at Happy Joe's Pizza Parlor on December 18, 1983. It was rather appropriate when most of them ordered taco pizzas. Spanish II and III students had a lot of fun making Mexican turnovers. Spanish-American cooking allowed many of them the opportunity to make and sample scrumptious Spanish dishes. On May 11, 1984, their annual Mother's Tea was held. Entertainment and refreshments were provided. Each of their mothers received a single red rose.

Everyone had fun making pinatas during Interim Week.

This year the Yearbook staff worked very hard and put in many long hours to make the last yearbook the best. They started out by sending Lisa Kime, Denise Lamphier, Jane Dohrmann, and Mrs. Colvin to a workshop at Kirkwood College sponsored by Walsworth Publishing Company. They decided on using a more expensive method of printing. To meet the extra cost they sold advertisements and sponsorships. They also held a slave auction and a bake sale. They sold 150 yearbooks which is an all time record for yearbook sales at Fayette.

There was a class during Interim in which the staff got a chance to work on their pages. There was a lot of hard work put into the final Fayette High School Yearbook.

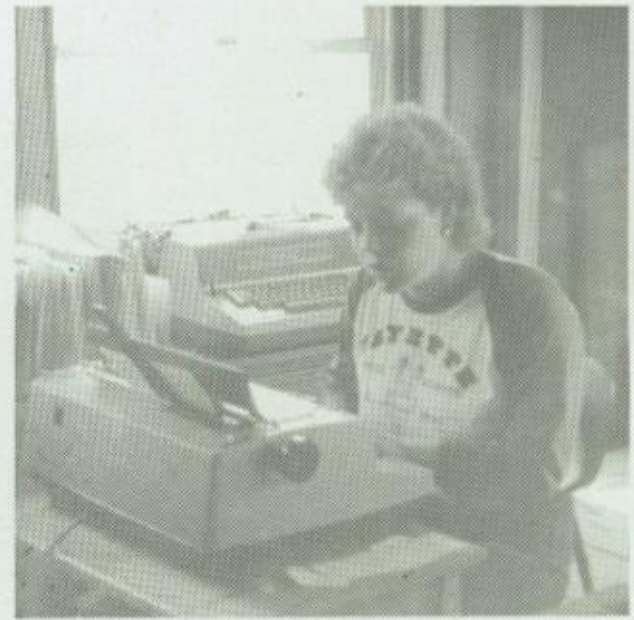

The staff consisted of Editor Lisa Kime, Assistant Editor Sandra Ott, Business managers Denise Lamphier and Jane Dohrmann, and Photographers Dan Jellings, Wade Miner, and Kitty Killoran. Missy Tangen served as photography specialist.

Chorus Creates Noteful Memories

This year the chorus was very busy. They performed in the Variety Show and sang "We're Gonna Have A Real Good Time Tonight", "Memory", and "Haunting Melody". During the song "Real Good Time Tonight" they performed a dance and then during "Memory" slides were shown. As time went on they had the Chorus Festival at Upper Iowa, Christmas concert, Individual Contest, Large Group Contest and the Spring Concert. At Large Group they received a two.

The Girls' Glee was busy this year, too. They performed a song and dance number at the Variety Show, sang at all the concerts, and received a three at Large Group.

As the year came to an end, they sang at the Awards'

Banquet and the Graduation Ceremony, which ended the year on a nice note.

This year there were only two Journalism II students, Denise Lamphier and Pat Murphy. These two served as Co-Editors during first semester. When second semester rolled around and they were finished with their writing career, Journalism I students, Missy Tangen and Jim Wulfekuhle, filled their shoes as Co-Editors.

Although many of the Journalism students performed darkroom and picture-taking duties, Dan Jellings and Wade Miner are deserving of special mention as newspaper photographers.

(In case you are wondering, - 30 - means "The End" in journalism talk.)

"This is the year for action" proclaimed the Drama Club President Kitty Killoran. With the help of her Drama Club Advisor Miss Reicks and her staff of Pat Murphy, Vice-President, Lisa Kime, Secretary, Lori Lau, Treasurer, Kitty was able to make this "the year for action." For their first meeting, Drama Club went to Janecke's house for a potluck. There they decided to make a Taco Stand for the great Watermelon Days. Kitty and Janel Lamphier marched in the parade as Casey up to Bat and a clown advertising the Taco Stand. Kim Richards and Desiree Deintz marched to advertise the Mime Stand.

In one meeting we decided to name Drama Club: Upstagers Incorporated and to get jerseys.

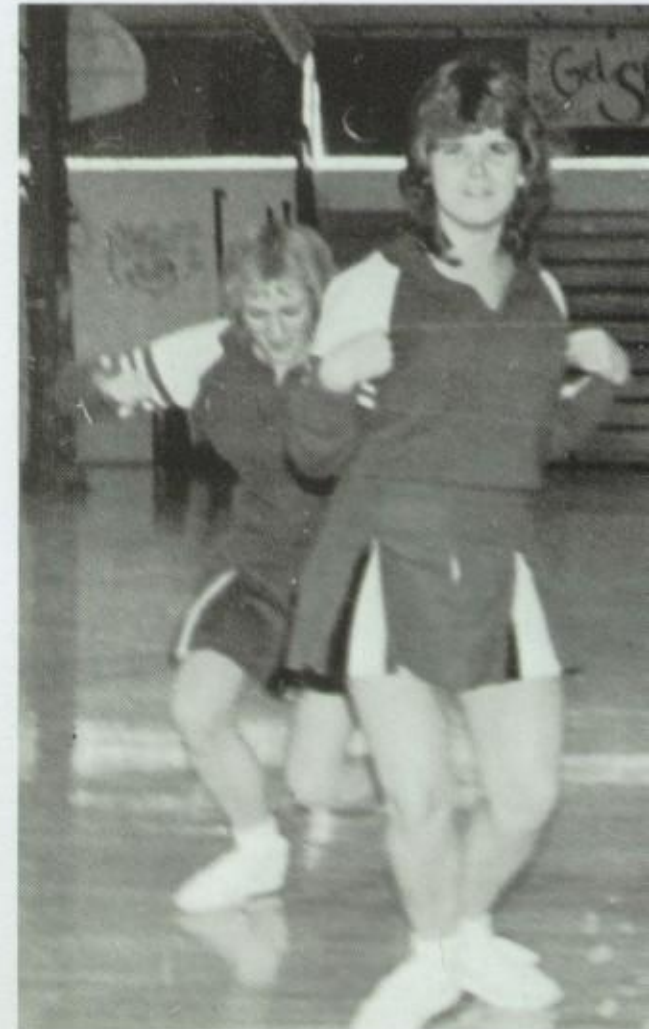

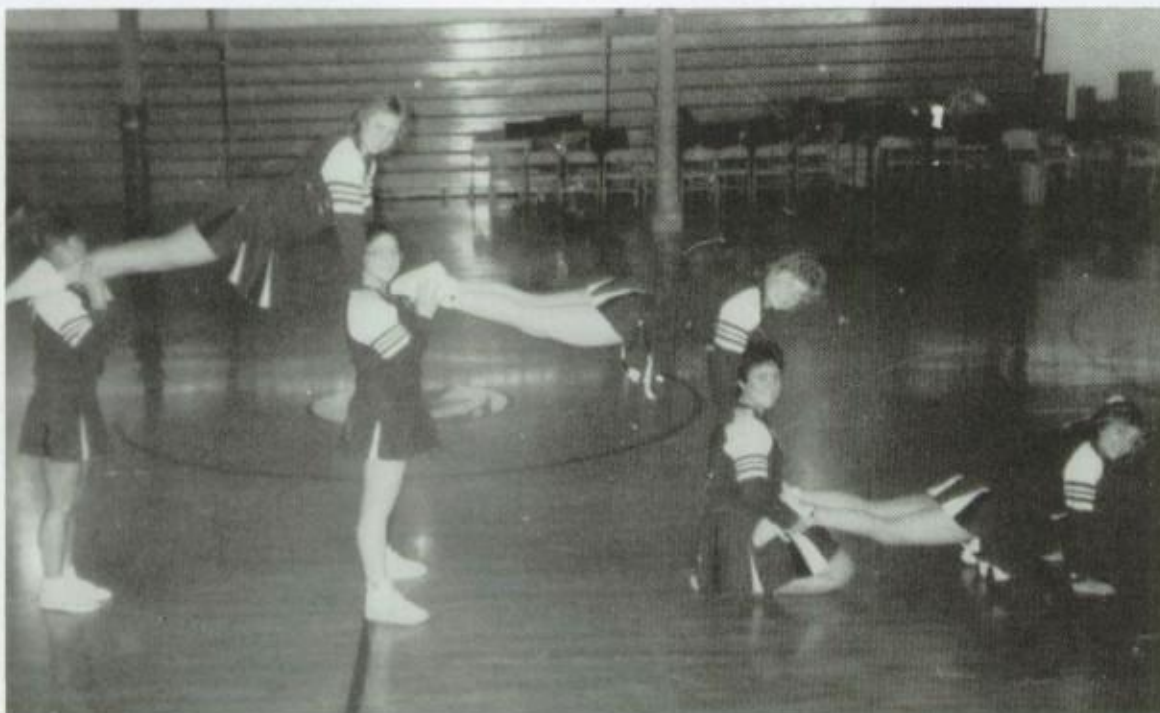

We had our Christmas Party at Pat Murphy's house, where we exchanged gag gifts. I'm sure no one will forget Kathleen Kelly and her gift of a snake.

We sold popcorn balls and caramel corn to raise money. With the money, we got Miss Reicks a plaque and had a party at the Killoran's house where we watched two movies and had lots of food. All in all, it was definitely the year for action.

Basketball Colorguard

Nine girls made up the spectrum of this year's Basketball Colorguard. These shining young ladies were: Co-Captains Missy Tangen and Denise Lamphier, members Karen Pattison, Kim Vandersee, Kelly Bentley, Pam Sawvell, Carmen Lamphier, Aimee Dahlquist, and Kathy Vandersee.

To begin their star-reaching season the girls performed to the song "Maniac," from the movie "Flashdance," for the Variety Show.

The girls turned back time, digging in their mother's closet, they found bobbie-socks, poodle skirts, saddle shoes, and their father's old letter sweaters. After which they dolled themselves up and courted their men to the tune "You're the One That I Want."

For the Homecoming performance on December 16, the girls caught the Christmas Spirit by performing to the jolly old tune of Sleigh Ride.

For their grand finale on January 20, the young ladies did a spectacular routine to the smash hit "Queen of the Broken Hearts."

Girls, kick as high as you can.

Audio Visual

This year's A.V. crew, supervised by Ms. Griffin, consisted of Leslie Davis, Richard Crouch, Martin Rhode, Vince Rhode, Shawn Griffin, Jim Wulfekuhle, and Jeff Olson. The crew was kept busy filming basketball games, plays, and setting up the sound system for various events.

The Jazz Band consisted of 17 members, five saxophones, four trombones, four trumpets, and four rhythm players. We performed at the Fall Variety Show, High School Christmas Concert and Booster Club Awards' Night. We also competed at Tall Corn Festival for criticism only. That experience proved very worthwhile as we then participated in the N.E.I.B.A. Jazz Festival where we took home a first place qualifying us to compete in the State Jazz Championships for the sixth consecutive year.

The Dixie Band, playing authentic Dixie selections, performed at the Fall Variety Show and a Catholic Service. The band was made up of four horn players, one pianist, a bass player and a drummer.

Not many people receive the honor of being in National Honor Society, but 18 of Fayette's students possessed the four essential qualities required. These are scholarship, leadership, character, and service.

Throughout the year, President Lisa Kime and advisor Mrs. Kuethe kept the group on their toes. Some things they did included selling "Final Year" jerseys and they inducted six new members at the spring induction. For their service project each spent an hour a week helping out at the nursing home. At the end of the year they dined at "The Broom Factory" in Cedar Falls.

The groups' old members included these people: Karl Kraus, Jane Dohrmann, Denise Lamphier, Lisa Kime, Ann Glidden, Matt White, Karrie Weyant, Sandra Ott, Pam Sawvell, Wendy Bantz, and Keith Hennig. Newly inducted members were: Missy Tangen, Mike Prochaska, Kathleen Kelly, Meg Glidden, Carmen Miner, Ray Iliff, and Shawn Griffin.

This elite group of people proved the importance and quality of the National Honor Society.

There's a Time for Work

The CIA, a group for students who have time and desire to help others, was under the guidance of Ms. Mary Griffin. These volunteer students were involved in a variety of activities including clerical, tutorial, paper correcting, and bulletin board construction.

Two girls, Tina and Wendy, worked in the school office over the lunch break each day. They had responsibilities that come with working in an office.

Following is a list of the CIA members and the faculty member or area each worked:

There's been many special activities sponsored by the Booster Club this year. Since it was the final year they have tried, and succeeded, to boost the spirit and pride of all Fayette Cardinals. To start off the year, the Booster Club, along with the Fayette Chamber of Commerce, sponsored an assembly with the speaker being Bob Hogue. Mr. Hogue talked to the student body about pride and spirit. He really got everyone excited about the year ahead of them. As the year continued they held a tractor pull, giving out trophies to the winners of each class. During Basketball season they hosted the hospitality room, bought pop for all the players and cheerleaders, held a family night with a pizza party afterwards, and the last game of the year they bought flowers for the players, coaches, and managers. Then, the season ended, so they moved onto other things. Helen Raplus drew a picture of the high school for the commemorative plates they sold. They donated money to the band and yearbook, and bought the medals for the band and chorus after Individual contest. Then, it was time for the big event, the Awards' Banquet. The Boosters asked Ted Johnson to speak and the Jazz band and chorus performed. So the year came to a close; the spirit and pride still showed in the hearts and activities of all the Cardinals. The Booster Club did many more special things that weren't listed above and they deserve a big "Thank You!"

A Real Good Time Tonight

On November 10 and 11, 1983, the Fayette High School drama and music departments presented the fall variety show entitled, "A Real Good Time Tonight." The show was hosted by emcees Denise Lamphier and Jim Wulfekuhle.

The chorus opened the show with the theme song. Pam Sawvell and Sandra Ott performed a flute duet. The audience was amused by many humorous skits including "Dr. Frankenstein" performed by Keith Hennig, Karl Kraus, Kitty Killoran, and Diana Dumermuth; "Tonight I Met Harold Klunkenhammer" acted out by Jane Dohrmann and Matt White; and "I Just Learned to Drive" done by Karen Pattison and Jim Wulfekuhle.

The colorguard performed a routine to the song "Maniac." The audience was also entertained by three musical selections in the first half of the program. These were "I Bought Me a Cat" sung by Jane Dohrmann, Ann Glidden, and Lori Lau; "Run For the Roses" done by Wendy Bantz, Meg Glidden, and Melissa Prochaska; and "The Golden Age of Rock and Roll" performed by Shawn Griffin, Robbie Sieck, Aimee Dahlquist, Kathy Vandersee, and Tricia Janecke.

Emcees Denise Lamphier and Jim Wulfekuhle enlivened the show with a variety of jokes and costume changes to provide humor throughout the show.

The girls' chorus sang the number "Why Do Fools Fall in Love." Matt White finished off the first half of the program with a percussion solo called "Tornado."

The high school jazz band commenced the second half of the program with two songs. The Dixie Band followed with a number called "Just A Closer Walk."

"Up Where We Belong" was sung by Diana Dumermuth and Shawn Griffin. Ann Glidden sang "Send in the Clowns" as Jane Dohrmann performed an interpretive dance.

Three skits, "Food for Thought" done by Pam Sawvell, Jane Lamphier, and Tricia Janecke; "Just One More" acted out by Mike Prochaska and Denise Lamphier; and "The Baby" performed by Jim Wulfekuhle, Desiree Dietz, and Janel Lamphier, were enjoyed by all.

Mike Prochaska showed his ability to bark in "DeBarking DeBoy", along with Wendy Bantz, Aimee Dahlquist, and Keith Hennig. The chorus performed two songs, "Memory" and "Haunting Melody" to a slide show depicting scenes of students and faculty throughout the past year. The show had a surprise ending with the appearance of the marching band. They showed us their skill perfected by playing for the West Union football games.

The show was a great success and enjoyed by all.

When November approached, thespians of FHS had visions of straight Is at state so they could go to Super State. Unfortunately, no one made it to Super State, but Miss Reicks, speech instructor, commented, "I was very pleased with the interest shown in extracurricular speech work this year. It was a rewarding experience to watch the students' progress from their first rehearsals to their performances at contests. I was particularly pleased with the two ensemble acting groups who received straight I ratings at State contest."

Below are the results of Large Group District and State Speech contests:

One Act Play - "Vanities" with Lori, Kathy, and Aimee received a II rating at Districts.

Readers' Theatre - "Feiffer's People" performed by Shawn, Kitty, Pat, Keith, Wendy, and Desiree earned a II rating at State.

Group Mime - "Two Man Circus" starring Janel and Paula acquired a District II for their hard work.

This year there were three groups involved in Ensemble Acting which included "Not Enough Rope" casting Pat, Kitty, and Ann. It was awarded a District II.

And finally, both "The Rainmaker" enacted by Shawn and Diana and "The Drapes Come" played by Denise and Jane received the best possible at State Speech contests, straight Is. Congratulations!

This year was an enjoyable year for people participating in Individual Speech contests. A lot of hard work and practice went into each performance. Although no one earned the honor to go to Super State, Miss Reicks remarked, "The seniors played an important part in the success of this year's individual events contests. Also deserving of special mention are the students who participated in contest work for the first time. I was very proud of the work, determination, and poise that they showed. I hope they continue their interest in speech work in the following years."

HOMECOMING

A FINAL HURRAH

Bottom middle: Meg Glidden and Tricia Janecke dressed as twin bums. Bottom right: Kim Richards and Janel Lamphier on Twin Day.

The final Homecoming proved to be a memorable one. Spirit week started off interestingly on Monday being Hat, Button, and Sunglasses Day. The rest of the days were Punk Day, Twin Day, Clash Day, and Jersey and Red and White Day. Everyone showed much spirit by coming up with some great combinations.

Friday afternoon was the pep meeting. Every class participated in the games. There was a Spirit King Pageant where every class had a male representative who led the crowd in a cheer of his choice. They were judged on poise, leadership, and of course spirit. Tracey Anderson was crowned Spirit King 1983 by the former Spirit King, Mr. Utterback.

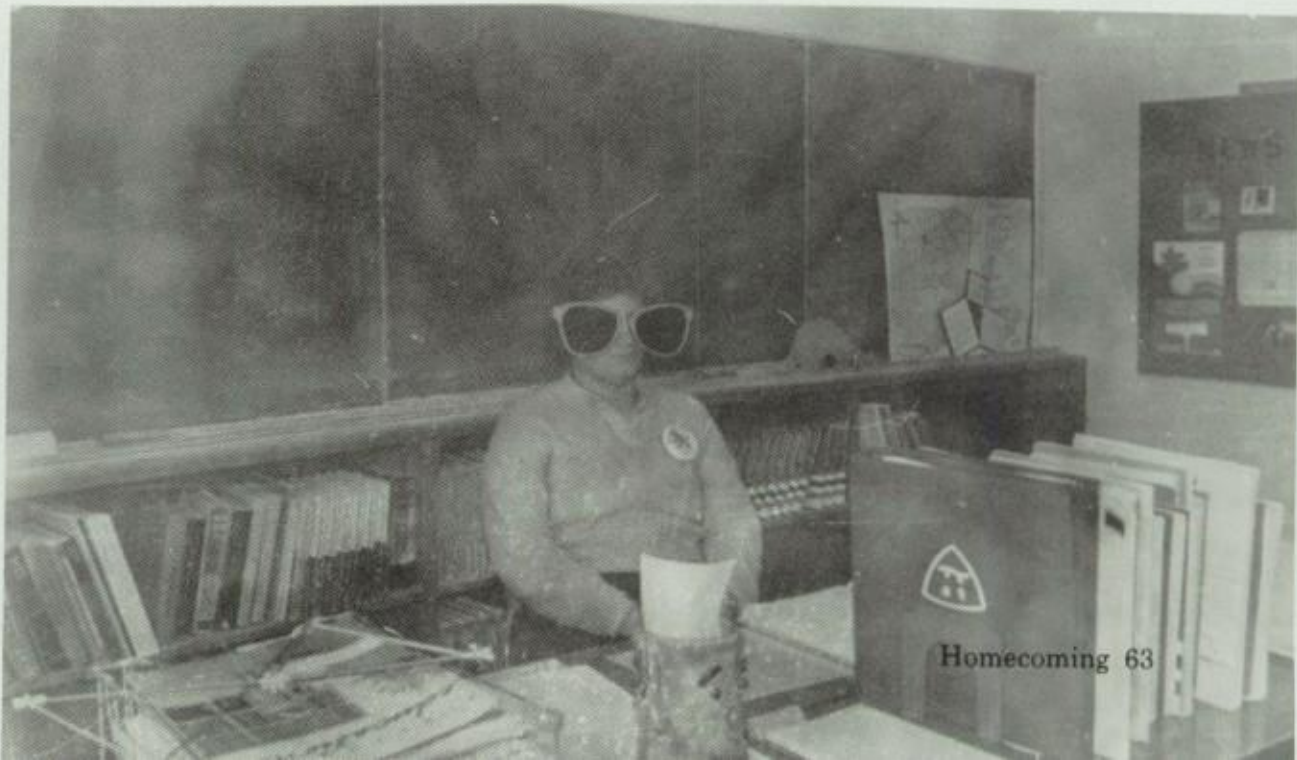

There was also a Mr. Legs contest where each class and the Student Council had a representative. They had a picture of their legs taken and taped to a jar. Then the student body was encouraged to vote for their favorite pair of legs by dropping money into the jar. At the end of the week Keith Hennig had the most money in his jar, so he won the title of Mr. Legs 1983.

The Homecoming games were played against Central of Elkader. Despite their hard work and effort neither team could pull out a victory. Between games Karl Kraus and Lori Lau were crowned Homecoming King and Queen. Other senior candidates were Dan Jellings, Lisa Kime, Missy Tangen, and Randy Garr. Junior attendants were Sandra Ott, and Darby Jellings. Sophomore attendants were Diana Dumermuth and Jon Merritt. Freshman attendants were Melissa Prochaska and Joe White.

The following evening many attended and enjoyed the final Homecoming dance featuring music by "Rumor".

In the ensembles, the trio (Lori Lau, Ann Glidden, and Jane Dohrmann) and sextet (Wendy Bantz, Lori Lau, Ann Glidden, Jane Dohrmann, Meg Glidden, and Aimee Dahlquist) each earned a I. The trio (Tricia Janecke, Aimee Dahlquist, and Meg Glidden) and boys' quartet (Robbie Sieck, Joe White, Chad Ingels, and Jeff Kaune) received III's. The triple trio (Desiree Dietz, Tammy Bentley, Janel Lamphier, Melissa Prochaska, Shelly Larson, Paula Sawvell, Robyn Thompson, and Kim Richards) rated a IV. These girls are all freshmen.

The madrigal group composed of ten students earned a II.

Four outstanding awards were awarded during the day. Fayette was most fortunate by winning two of those awards. Ann Glidden's solo and the girls' sextet were those chosen.

Presenting - 4-Generation Alumni

The Fayette High School claims at least one four-generation family group of alumni.

Maude Timmerman (Mrs. Thomas Kuhens) graduated from the Fayette High School in 1924, one of 40 seniors.

The students then liked class rings. The girls wore long torso dresses and fashioned their hair in buns over their ears.

Mrs. Kuhen's daughter Lucy (Mrs. Robert Lamphier) is the second person in this elite group. Lucy's graduation year was 1945 with about 35 graduates in her class. Some memories of Lucy include the yearbook, chorus (which presented several operettas), and vocal music contests. There was no basketball for girls then, but the boys competed in basketball, football and baseball.

The baseball diamond was north of the present high school building.

Lucy Kuhens Lamphier's son Robert makes this select group a trio of alumni. Little did Bob realize when he graduated in 1964 that he one day would be the father of a daughter who completed this four-generation group.

Bob remembers his high school days included playing tackle on the football team and being the catcher on the baseball team. There were classmates in his graduating class.

Denise Lamphier's position in the group is not only that of completing this foursome, but her father Bob is a member of the school board and presented his daughter one of the final diplomas from the Fayette Community School. Bob is also a board member of the newly merged district - North Fayette Community School. Twenty-one young people graduated in 1984.

Denise had a busy last six years at Fayette. She was a member of the undefeated junior high basketball teams and also played on the high school team. Speech and drama was a favorite high school activity. She earned two I's at the state speech contests in each of her junior and senior years. She had the lead female role in the all-school play in her senior year. She also was a yearbook staff member with many innovative creative ideas.

MIXERS

In Webster's Seventh New Collegiate Dictionary, one definition of "mixer" is "to bring in a close association". Throughout the years, it has been a tradition at Fayette to have "Mixers" printed in the paper. The purpose is to take a song, book, movie, etc. that reminds the writer of someone and combine them. Listed on this page are excerpts from this year's Card Communique "Mixers".

Steppin' Out In Style

Prom and Banquet

April 28, 1984

The juniors wanted the last Prom to be a memorable one. They chose "Steppin' Out In Style" as the theme. They worked hard all year raising money and planning for the big evening.

The Friday before Prom all juniors were let out of their classes to begin decorating. The day brought much frustration and hard work. Finally it was all finished for the big day.

The long awaited evening finally arrived. Juniors, seniors, and all the staff were invited to attend the banquet which was held at the Upper Iowa University Cafeteria. It started out with an Invocation by Father Norman White. A welcome and response was then given by the presidents of the classes, Sandra Ott and Lisa Kime.

Everyone then enjoyed a delicious meal of chicken, ham, baked potatoes, corn, salads, and cake for dessert.

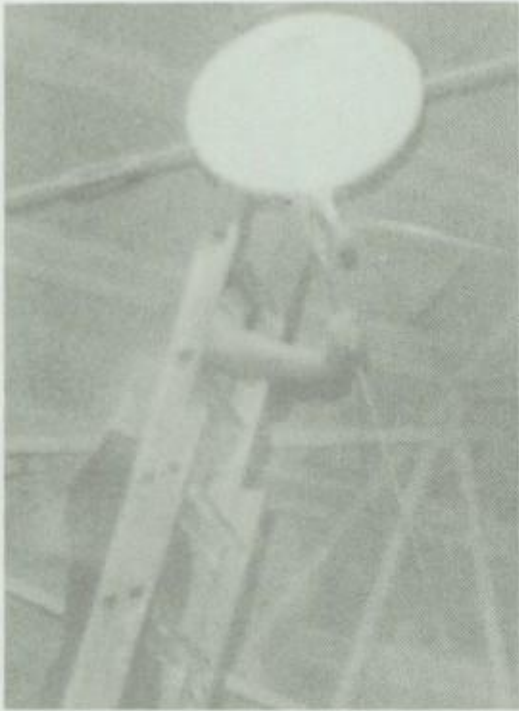

After the meal the senior wills and prophecies were read. Everyone then enjoyed the entertainment by soloist Miss Leslie Lein and her band, Mrs. Glidden, Ann Glidden, and Matt White.

After the banquet many attended the dance which was from 9:00 - 1:00. Music was provided by RPM.

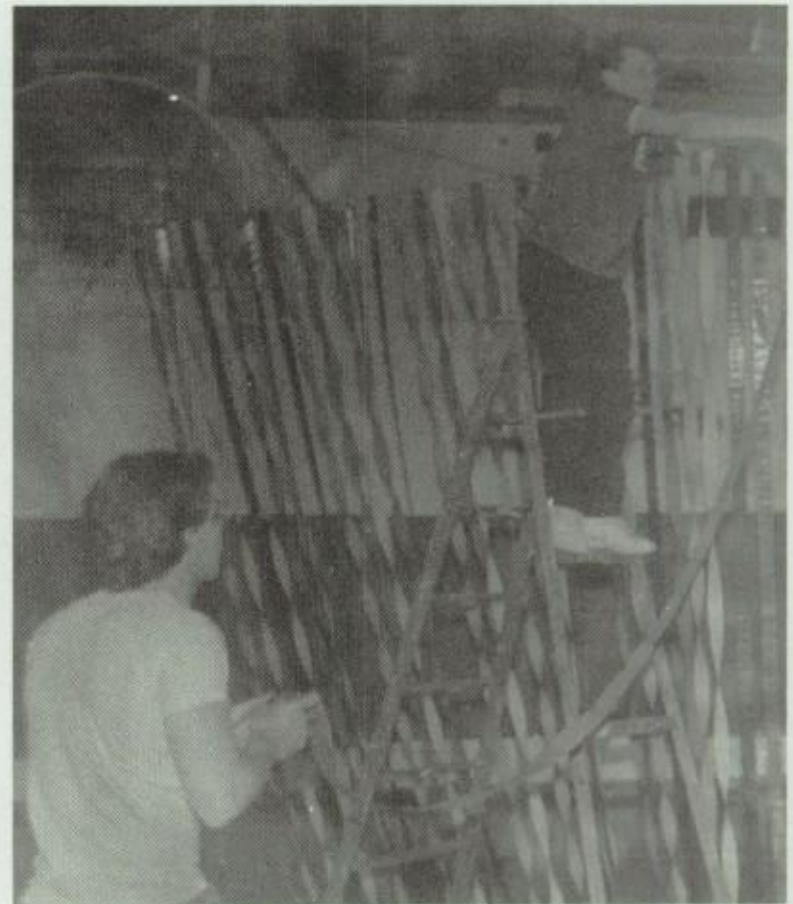

Jeff Scott was the photographer for the evening. Many couples had their pictures taken with them seated on the red sports car provided by Jerry Reisinger.

After the dance many students went to houses where movies were being shown and breakfast was being served.

The Future Is Ours

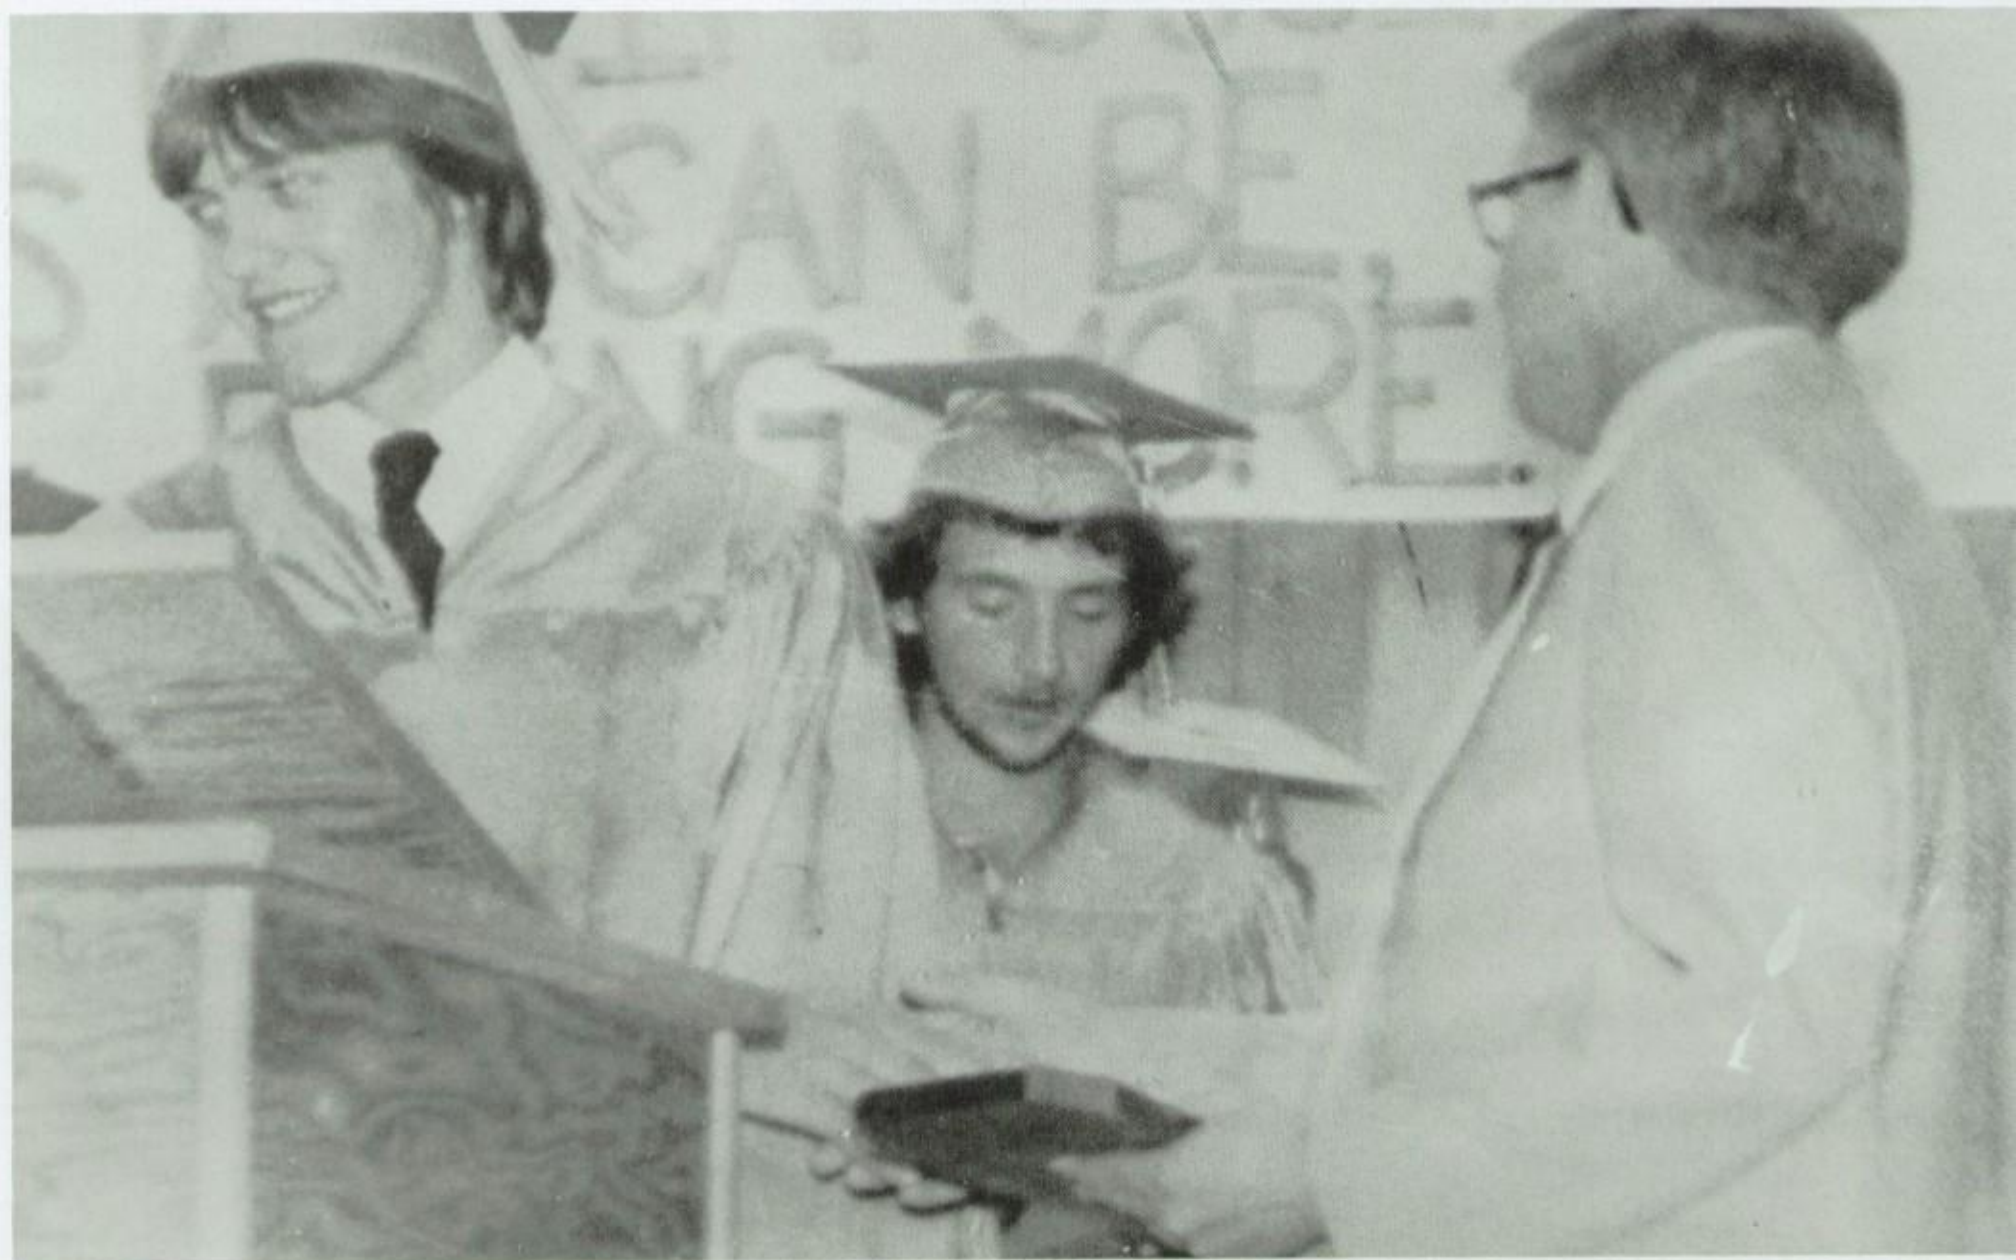

Fayette High School graduated its 97th and final senior class on May 20, 1984. Fourteen of the twenty-one members of the senior class graduated with academic honors of a "B" grade average or higher. The seven honor students who graduated with a 3.2 grade point or higher over a four-year period were: Jane Dohrmann, Ann Glidden, Denise Lamphier, Jim Petsche, Karl Kraus and Missy Tangen. Dohrmann, Glidden, Kime, Kraus, and Lamphier were also given Presidential Academic and Fitness awards.

Following Reverend Mariano's invocation, class president Lisa Kime welcomed everybody to the special occasion. Denise Lamphier was selected to read the class history, and Dan Jellings was chosen to be speaker. Following the awards' presentation, Doug Steinbronn gave the teacher of the year award to Mr. Nihart who told the crowd, "I will be a Cardinal forever."

Ending an Era

Smokey Gray and Cardinal Red were the colors worn by the final graduating class of Fayette High. "To achieve all that is possible, we must attempt the impossible. To be as much as we can be, we must dream of being more." was their chosen motto.

Award winners at Commencement were Jane Dohrmann, Ann Glidden, Dan Jellings, Lisa Kime, Karl Kraus, Denise Lamphier, Pat Murphy, Jim Petsche, Loren Poor, Missy Tangen, and Jim Wulfekuhle.

The Senior class will always be remembered as the final graduating class at Fayette. However, they will also be remembered for their activeness and dedication in making Fayette Community School and the community of Fayette a better place to grow.

Ten students spent their 13 educational years at Fayette. Jane joined the class in 7th grade, Missy Richards and Yvette Waterman in 10th grade, and Karl and Gene in 11th grade.

The Student Council representatives were Denise and Randy.

The Seniors participated in a variety of activities: football, basketball, track, golf, cheer-leading, cross country, drama, yearbook, industrial arts, band, chorus, Community Betterment, and church youth groups.

Some memorable moments during the year included Homecoming, numerous sock hops, Dan's Christmas party, Ann being chosen as Sports Spotlight in the Oelwein Daily Register, the boys' basketball team losing to rival North by just one point, the last home basketball game, the last Happy Hour, the breakfast at Doug's after Prom, and Jeff being medalist at several golf meets.

Friendships were strengthened during the class's last year of school. As they go their separate ways, the class of 1984 will reflect the memories of their high school years and will always have a Cardinal in their heart.

At the beginning of our junior year, we found out that the merger between Fayette and North went through. Even though we wouldn't graduate at Fayette, we put out an extra effort to make our last year here a memorable one.

Many of us participated in music, drama, sports, and other organizations such as Student Council. Sandra Ott, Keith Hennig, Matt White, and Karrie Weyant were our representatives for it.

Mike Prochaska was a new inductee into National Honor Society. He joined Sandra, Wendy, Karrie, Pam, Keith and Matt.

Our homecoming attendants were Sandra Ott and Darby Jellings. Keith Hennig and Wendy Bantz went to state speech contest.

Tina Hildebrand and Darby Jellings were our attendants for the Valentine's Dance.

We put a lot of work in preparing for prom. This included many fund raisers which kept us busy. The theme for this year's prom was "Stepping Out in Style." It was a great success.

Many other individuals were involved in activities that helped the Junior class to show their talents and make this year a memorable one.

The school year proved to be very busy and activity-packed for most of the sophomores. Many of them were involved in sports, plays, speech contests, and the musical departments. Carmen Miner excelled in basketball as she was a starting guard for the Lady Cardinals. Tracey was Fayette's highest scorer in varsity boys' basketball. Meg and Diana kept the sophomores' cheers and spirits up while being varsity basketball cheerleaders. Homecoming brought about the room decorating contests with their theme being "All 'The Right Moves." There was also a Spirit King 1983 contest where the sophomores' own Tracey won the coveted title. Attendants for Homecoming were Diana and Jon. For the Sweetheart Dance, Jeff and Lori were candidates for king and queen. Diana, Shawn, and Kathleen participated in state speech contests. Tricia, Shawn, Diana, and Kathleen were members of the cast for the spring play. Many participated in the vocal and instrumental contests in April. Shawn, Raymond, Carmen Miner, Meg, and Kathleen were inducted into National Honor Society. Some of the highlights of the year were Corrina's visit back here, orientation at North High, Tricia breakdancing, and for some, going to "Wally World."

The Freshmen Class members tried their hardest this year to have a lot of fun knowing that this was the last year that we would attend school at Fayette.

Our two representatives for Student Council were Chad Ingels and Melissa Prochaska. The Class Officers were President - Robbie Sieck, Vice-President - Janel Lamphier, Secretary - Robyn Thompson, and Treasurer - Paula Sawvell.

One of our most memorable moments of this year was Homecoming Week and the Homecoming night festivities. We won first place in the room decorating contest and our Homecoming candidates were Melissa Prochaska and Joe White.

Janel Lamphier, Paula Sawvell, and Desiree Dietz were the three speech representatives for our class.

The Freshmen Class sponsored a Sadie Hawkins Dance for the Junior and Senior High School.

Kathy Vandersee and Chad Ingels were our class candidates for the Valentine's Dance.

Our class sold M&M candies for a fund-raiser and that money went towards a class party that was held at the end of the year. The Sophomores and the Freshmen ordered pizzas and watched movies in the Multi-Purpose room. All in all it turned out to be a great year!

Our Valentine's candidates Chad Ingels and Kathy Vandersee.

Wastin' Time

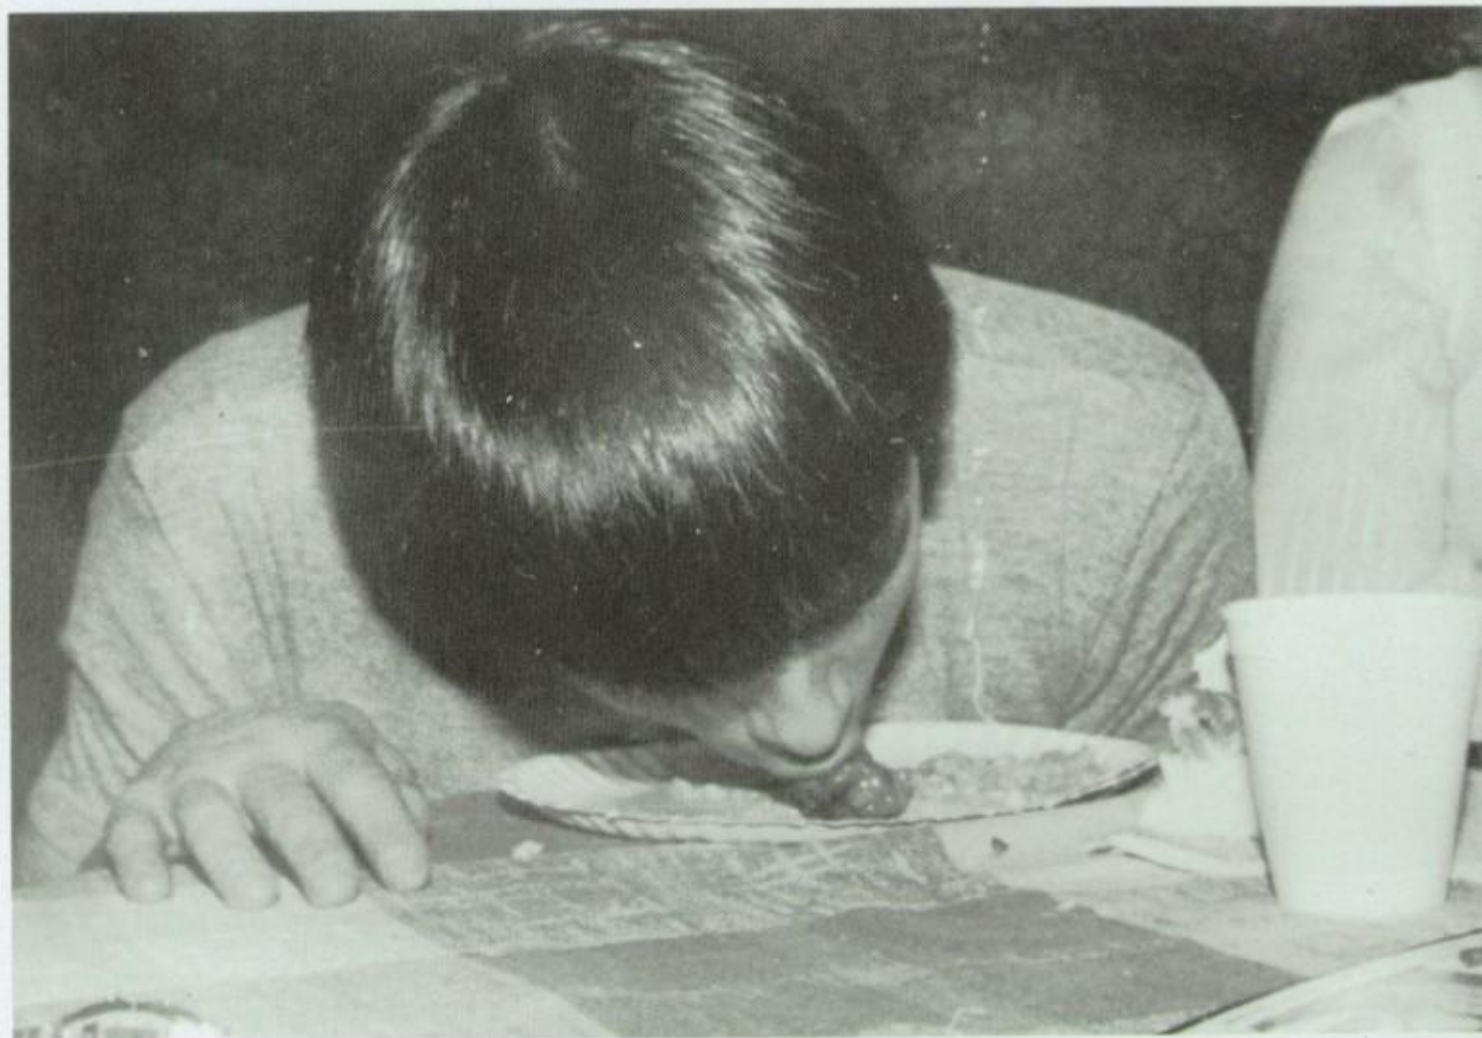

When not being their studious selves, Fayette students find many ways to unwind and relax. Skipping classes, hiding in the halls, cruising, and having fun times with great friends are a few of the many pastimes.

Even though this wasn't the first year in junior high, we did have some new experiences. Several fellows played on the North junior high football team and many of us were members of the concert band and participated in vocal music and contests. A highlight of being in the marching band was a trip to Chicago shortly after the school year ended.

Both guys and gals played with much pride and hustle on their respective basketball teams. The track teams also say many eighth graders as members. The fall and spring plays were each cast with "actresses and actors" from our ranks.

Our class experiences were enhanced with a semester of typing and a quarter each of art and Spanish.

Our first year in junior high was a busy one. A majority of us were involved in extra-curricular activities - football, wrestling, music, plays and track.

Another difference was moving from room to room for our academic classes. In addition we were part of the North-Fayette sharing program so we took home ec. and industrial arts at North. We were introduced to Spanish and continued our art experiences.

Junior High ...

This past year the 7th grade athletes had many exciting moments. Although the basketball teams weren't the winningest, there were many signs of improvement and lots of hard work done for which our young athletes should be congratulated.

The track teams did quite well, for the only thing that hurt them was the lack of numbers which kept them from winning any meets. Some of the highlights of the year were the high placing of Mindy, Tracy, Jon, Keith, and the 7th grade girls 880 relay.

Along Came Harriet

Poor "Mousey" Wilson! The other girls at Lakemore Girls' School never used carpets to step on - they just walked over Mousey. She did their home work, she allowed them to copy her notes, she coached them for exams, and she took their insults with surprisingly good grace. That situation might have prevailed during the four years of her college life if Harriet had not come along. Harriet, fifteen, boisterous, and completely nonchalant, knew something had to be done. In her delightfully careless way, she mixes up everybody - and to everybody's surprise "Mousey" comes out on top! This carefree comedy intrigued and amused their audiences

My sincere thanks goes out to the advertisers, boosters, and sponsors of this book - especially the Fayette Booster Club. Without the generosity of these special people, this yearbook would not have been possible.

I also want to use this space to thank Jack Bonjour, Tina Hildebrand, Donna Schultz, and Kelly Bentley for volunteering their extra time to work in the darkroom. Jeff Scott, Fran Bowden, the Fayette Leader, and The Union also came to our rescue by providing needed pictures.

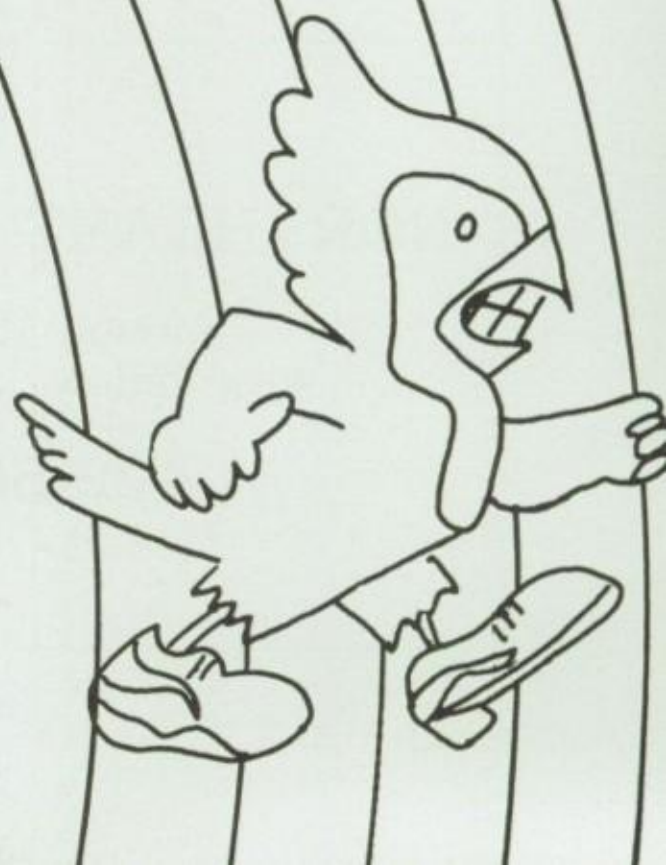

The rest of my thanks goes to the members of the staff who put in extra time when others failed to meet their responsibilities. Included in this group - and perhaps most important - is our advisor Miriam Colvin. Without her patience, tolerance, and dedication little or nothing would have been accomplished.

Thanks again to all of you!

It will be gone tomorrow
All the memories of laughter,
Of sadness, joys and sorrow.
The life we spent looking
At every wall, ceiling and rafter.
The memories of victories and defeats
Will be in our memories forever.
We'll have memories of our past,
And the future will bring the same.
We haven't lost our memories;
They will always be with us.
But I have lost a part of me
That nothing could fill.
This is where I had all my hopes and dreams.
My memories of a small town
Will live with me forever.
There will always be a Cardinal in me -
I will be a Cardinal forever.
